Commenting on the announcement, Russell Wilson (pictured left) – Cool Energy's Rental Director said, "We are pleased that our customers can now benefit from a wider range of goods from 2 of the UK & Ireland's most specialist rental suppliers.

Both businesses are well known for focusing on customer service and the best application of our products. We also like to ensure that our customers receive a very high grade of satisfaction when dealing with us.

We are now able to provide both ranges together all over the UK and Ireland, with a faster response, now that we have larger resources and more local depots."

The partnership also have 6 further depots in Europe and have completed several projects recently including low temperature critical storage for vaccines and the blast freezing of fish for a processing plant.

CRS's Director – Paul Tyrrell (pictured left) commented, "For some time now we have been working with Cool Energy and it has been apparent that we work well together.

Our customers are used to receiving a good response and first-class equipment.

Both of us are refrigeration specialists and also manufacturer our own products in-house and therefore pass this benefit on to our own customers. We can now offer a larger stocked range to cope with most process, packing and storage applications from one source.

We are also able to offer specialised products such as our 16ft wide Mega cold stores, pharmaceutical stores with full redundancy and a temperature control range from 60°C all the way through to -40°C.

By working closely together, our customers will receive the benefits that both our businesses can provide."
