

There are easier ways to keep your crop cool

Cool Energy are specialists at providing cooling solutions for long or short term rental projects.

Cool Energy knows how important your crop is. We can provide you with a temporary solution to help improve your chilled process temperature, reduce heat in your storage environment and protect your crop when you need a fast and reliable service.

Don't worry if you're short of duty or your product temperature is close to being out of specification – we can hire you a supplementary cooling package to suit your long or short term shortfall.

We have the experience and equipment to either add to your existing system or control your cooling locally or entirely.

Call us now to arrange a site visit or contingency plan to help manage any breakdown or seasonal cooling requirements free on 0800 169 3861 or log on to www.coolenergy.co.uk.
